We dedicate this book to the future because we ourselves are dedicated to the future, to the new worlds which each of us will create. And in this process of creation, we will build on the past which has shaped the future: on the Mount. For our love of the Mount is not a mere love of stone and mortar; it is, rather, a love of intangibles, compounded of shared experiences and ever-increasing knowledge of one another and of ourselves. It is a love formed by years of classroom-sitting and page-turning and coffee-drinking, of endings and beginnings, of sun and rain and wind. It is a love which one never realizes completely until this moment, when the past merges with the present and becomes the future.

And so we give ourselves to this vague, undefined future, bringing to it youth and energy and love—and regret, too, for what we must leave behind. What we leave is neither vague nor undefined; it is clear and bright, a memory, and yet more than a memory, because it has become part of us.

FACULTY

Sister Mary Brigid, Dean of Faculty; Father James O'Reilly, Chaplain; Sister Margaret Cloon, Vice-President, gather in the president's office to discuss graduation preparations.

Sister Mercia Louise, Dean of Women; Sister Alice Marie, Dean of the Undergraduate School; Sister Germaine, Dean of the Graduate Department pause on the steps of the arcade to view the replanting on the hillside.

Sister Anita Joseph, Registrar, checks her list of students with the financial records of Sister Mildred Marie, Treasurer.

The many different functions of Sister Catherine Anita, Head Librarian; Sister Cecilia Louise, Dean of Resident Students; Sister Mary Patricia, Senior Class Adviser; and Sister Genevieve Marie, Director of Student Health Services, contribute to the whole picture of campus life.
